Planned lines of advance vs the published clusters (5, directional vector)

17th Army — near plan · agreement 90/100

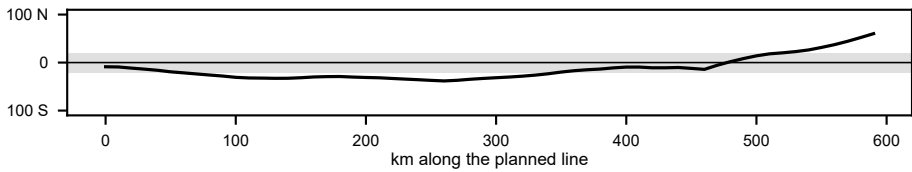

The matched group ran on average 33 km south of the plan, inside the 50 km corridor for 57% of the way, ended 18 km from the planned end point, heading the same way. Most of its divisions belong to that formation.

Panzer Group 1 (less III Corps) — near plan · agreement 84/100

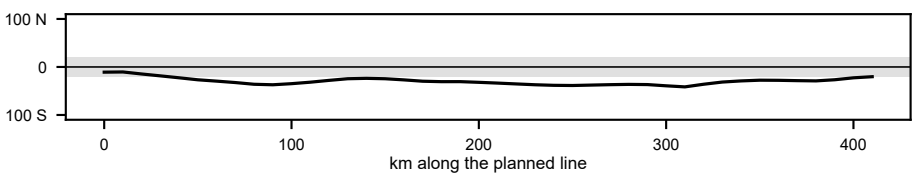

The matched group wove on average 24 km either side of the plan, inside the 50 km corridor for 100% of the way, ended 68 km from the planned end point, heading the same way. Most of its divisions belong to that formation.

III Panzer Corps — near plan · agreement 96/100

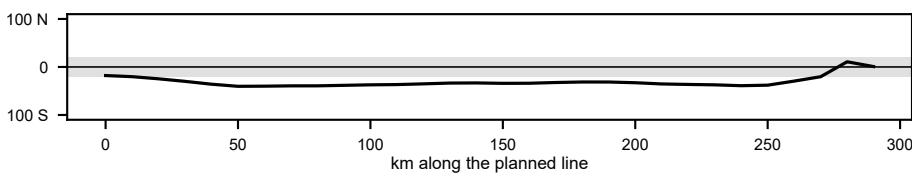

The matched group ran on average 30 km south of the plan, inside the 50 km corridor for 100% of the way, ended 20 km from the planned end point, heading the same way. Most of III Panzer Corps's own divisions ended up in another group.

6th Army — near plan · agreement 92/100

The matched group ran on average 31 km south of the plan, inside the 50 km corridor for 100% of the way, ended 24 km from the planned end point, heading the same way. Most of 6th Army's own divisions ended up in another group.

Planned line of advance — Matched group's average path — Within 50 km of the plan (map) / ±20 km mapping error (strip)